THE FEEL-GOOD CURRICULUM: THE DUMBING DOWN OF AMERICA'S KIDS IN THE NAME OF SELF-ESTEEM

Da Capo Press, 2000. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: The so-called self-esteem movement -- a progressive, child-centered, discovery model of schooling -- has transformed schools into therapeutic clinics and teachers into counselors, creating a generation of entitled, righteous, underachieving children. An insider's account of the pernicious aspects of this seemingly well-meaning movement, The Feel-Good Curriculum provides devastating evidence that our belief in the power and importance of self-esteem in education is misplaced and without basis. Avoiding political posturing and political correctness, The Feel-Good Curriculum identifies the four specific effects of self-esteem's stranglehold on our schools -- narcissism, emotivism, separatism, and cynicism. It prescribes antidotes to them -- empathy, rationality and morality, connectedness, and skepticism -- and offers a hopeful view of educational philosophy for the next millennium. Professor Stout urges us to replace our coddling, indulgent approach to building self-esteem in children with a sense of authentic self-confidence developed from intellectual, physical, and moral effort and achievement.
