Excerpt: .Tit. i. 7, were ordered and concluded. Then Mr. Marshal moved, That we might say something more to this purpose, about the power and choice of the people: but this was answered by Dr. Burgess, That this is against our vote at our rising yesterday; and he desired that the next proposition in the report should be taken in hand, and then that afterward. And here it cost us a great deal of time and tug, what we should first fall upon, as always we do, when we fall upon any such business of form, or order, at last we fell upon this: --- That he be ordained by prayer and imposition of hands, by such preaching presbyters as shall be thereunto appointed. 1 Tim.v. 22, Act. xiv. 23. This was ready to be ordered and concluded, without any debate, when Dr. Stanton moved,...
